Officials Deny Lumumba 'Escape' Cloaks His Death

Shadows Fall Over Economy Of Nation

Business This Week Finds Unemployment To Be Biggest Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Shadows across the economy darkened this week while President Kennedy took more steps to aleviate immediate distress and set a recovery going.

Unempoyment was the biggest problem.

The Labor Department officially announced that the number of jobless totaled 5.4 million at mid-January, up 900,000 from a month earlier.

The department added 48 areas to the list of communities with substantial unemployment.

A spokesman called the situation the worst since 1942.

Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg said the deline in the factory worker's average work week from 38.8 hours to 38.5 in January was another indication of "the gravity of the situation."

President Kennedy sent Goldberg on a tour of the most seriously distressed areas in five states. Goldberg's immediate report was that "we are in a full-fledged recession. He added proper action was needed to forestall "a real depression."

Economists told Congress that the economy probably will worsen in the next few months before improving later in the year.

The president sent to Congress a recommendation for $950 million in additional unemployment benefits for three million workers whose benefits have or are about to expire. He also offered a bill for temporary assistance for children of the needy jobless.

Congress was asked to promptly consider legislation boosting the $1 minimum wage to $1.25 and extending coverage to 4.3 million edditional workers.

Other action included requests for an extra $75 milion for the farm economy and for a spleed-up in payment of income tax refunds.

The automobie industry was especially hard hit with layoffs expected to increase the number of its idle to 70,000 next week. The auto-making companies are closing down plants because their dealers are glutted with unsold cars.

The layoffs extended into the industries which supply tires and other accessories.

Production this week was estimated at 91,000 passenger cars, down from 100,589 last week and from 153,186 a year ago.

Sales in January, totaling 368,913, were the lowest for the month since 1954.

Steel output edged up 1.8 per cent last week from the previous week but production still was lagging at around 50 per cent of capacity as orders from the auto industry were awaited.

A slightly improved outlook for this month appeared developing as some users who have been reducing inventories stepped up orders to meet spring needs.

The federal government struck its heaviest blow against antitrust as violators when a cout in Philadelphia fined 29 major electrical manufacturing companies nearly $2 million and sentenced seven of their executives to 30 30 days in jail.

The companies and individuals were accused of getting together and rigging prices and bids.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the government will file millions of dollars in damage suits against the companies to recover losses allegedly suffered on government contracts, States, cities and other political subdivisions threatened suits.

The expectation of suits drove the prices of General Electric and Westinghouse stocks sharply down on the New York Stock Exchange.

The stock market, after an almost steady rise since October, ran into profit taking and reaction and suffered a rather substantial setback on heavy trading.

Tiny Virginia Hamlet Becomes President's Vacation Retreat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy left Washington this afternoon to spend the weekend in a large French-style estate in the snow-covered Virginia countryside.

This weekend of relaxation at Glen Ora, the new presidential retreat, will be the first away from the White House for Kennedy since taking office Jan. 20.

At the estate, situated on an unpaved rural lane in Loudoun County's hunt country, Kennedy will join his wife and Caroline, their 3-year-old daughter, who flew to Glen Ora from Washington Friday in a Marine Corps helicopter.

Kennedy also will use a helicopter to reach Glen Ora, which is 45 miles west of Washington. The Kennedys' son, 11-week-old John Jr., is remaining at the White House.

Residents of Middleburg will be anxious to see what changes in their quiet lives will be wrought by the Kennedys' taking up residence among them. Gettysburg, Pa., the main weekend retreat of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, already had been a tourist attraction because of its Civil War battlefield. But Middleburg has had a history of seclusion until now.

A large press entourage always follows the president and there are only about 20 beds available at the Red Fox Tavern, the Colonial Inn and some private homes in Middleburg.

This paucity of accommodations for visitors led Friday to a lottery at the White House with 24 reporters drawing lots for the 20 beds available.

The problem became more acute with realization that one of the 24 was a woman. Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, solved this problem first. He assigned Jeannette Rudellat of the U. S. Information Agency a bed and room of her own.

2 Baby Girls Die as Fire Sweeps Home

WILLARD, Ohio (AP) — Two baby girls died Friday in a flash fire at their tar-paper shack home while their mother looked on helplessly.

Dead were Millie Wisecup, 16 months, and her three-months-old sister, Theresa. Three boys, all under school age, escaped unharmed. The house was located just outside the city limits.

Firemen said the mother, Mrs. E. R. Wisecup, had gone to get some firewood.

Mrs. Wisecup said she was about 60 feet from the house when she heard one of the children scream. By the time she reached the house, it was enveloped by flames. The boys were standing outside.

John Yacob, Willard fire chief, said the girls may have been overcome by smoke before the flames a pot-belly stove in the living room may have caused the blaze. They declined to give a damage estimate on the four-room shack, which was destroyed.

The father of the girls, a migrant farm laborer, was working at a nearby farm at the time.

Another daughter of the family was in school.

Bargain-Hunter Pays Fine Gladly

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Time on the parking meter had expired, but there was a bargain in the window at $2 less than the woman had expected to pay, so hang the parking meter.

As expected she found an overtime ticket on her car's windshield, but she paid her $1 fine without protest.

"I'm still $1 to the good," she said.

Clinton Commercial Airport Idea Chilled

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert has virtually scotched the idea of using Clinton County Air Force base for a commercial jet port.

He wrote Rep. Clarence Brown, Blanchester Republican, Friday, saying the Air Force plans to use the base "in the best interest of the national defense."

The Air Force decided recently to end use of the base for Strategic Air Command refueling tankers and move in a reserve flight unit from northeast Ohio.

Officials of soutwest Ohio communities met recently to study the possibilities of establishing a commercial jet station to serve the area.

8 Students, Teacher Killed By Avalanche

LENZERHEIDE, Switzerland (AP)—Rescuers dug today for a blonde 14-year-old girl believed to be the last victim of a snow avalanche that killed eight Swiss high school students and a teacher in the Swiss Alps.

A team of 60 rescuers—soldiers, guides and volunteers — dug all night on Scalottas mountain for the girl, given up for dead. Bodies of nine others have been recovered.

The roar of the tumbling ice and snow apparently was unheard Friday in the valley below the southern slope of the 7,600-foot mountain. But others saw the huge avalanche from afar, and the biggest rescue operation here in a generation began within the hour. There were 27 teen-agers and three teachers on a skiing vacation from a high school in Glarus. The group started up the wooded face of Scarlottas in brilliant sunshine on the last day of their two-week holiday. They were not on the regular ski trail.

The skiers were crossing a steep expanse, marked with danger signs and avoided by local guides, when the avalanche swept down and engulfed them.

Some were pulled out alive, but one boy flown down the valley by helicopter with a broken back died in front of a doctor's home.

Two boys were critically hurt. A woman teacher and several others were clear of the avalanche and unharmed but they suffered shock.

The Swiss radio had broadcast an avalanche warning for all areas higher than 4,500 feet about the time the ski party set out.

300 Students Send Valentine to Kennedy

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A giant card signed by 300 Nathan Hale High School students has been sent to President Kennedy as a Valentine greeting.

The heart was designed by the art department, placed on cardboard about 3 feet wide, signed inside in red ink, and shipped off first class mail.

Postage cost totaled $3.53.

Ohio Awaits Visit By Labor Expert

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg will be faced with Ohio's unemployment problem when he confers with state, labor and business officials here today.

Goldberg, arriving by plane from Detroit early this afternoon the city, on a fivestop tour of the the city, xon a fivestop tour of the Midwest to acssess ecnomic conditions on critical areas.

Administrator Donald B. Leach of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said that the state's unemployment figure stands above 12 per cent of the 2.4 million state workers covered by jobless compensation.

Goldberg said the nation is already in a fullfledged recession and "if we don't take proper action soon we'll be in a real depression."

The labor secretary has been touring depressed areas in Illinois, Indiana and now Michigan and planned to go later today to Columbus, Ohio, and Pittsburgh. At each stop he interviews idled workers and their families, and confers with political, business and labor leaders.

Goldberg, a former AFL-CIO counsel, found himself in a mild quarrel with a onetime union colleague, Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union. Reuther was among the union and auto industry figures with who Kennedy's unemployment area emissary was to meet here today.

Reuther told a congressional committee in Washington Thursday he doubted that Kennedy's economic aid program goes far enough and that a Kennedy proposal to give business at incentives was especially unnecessary and unwise.

Goldberg, asked at Lansing, Mich., Friday night about Reuther's position on the Kennedy tax proposal, replied with a smile that "I agree with my President (Kennedy) and, in this case, not with (union) President Reuther."

Reuther questioned whether tax incentives are needed to build new plants when so many are idled now. Goldberg told a Gary, Ind., audience that tax adjustments to let business modernize and rebuild plants and at the same time discourage location of plants abroad would be beneficial.

"I do not share the doubts of some labor leaders about the wisdom of this administration policy," Goldberg said.

But he said comment on Kennedy's plans from any source is a "healthy" thing.

In Michigan, Goldberg found economic conditions probably worse than any he has seen on his tour. There are 320,000 unemployed in the state, or 11.2 per cent of the work force, including 165,000 idled in the auto capital of Detroit.

Executives Don Prison Garb

Westinghouse Aides Serving Sentences

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two Westinghouse Electric Corp. executives exchanged business suits today for prisoners' blue denim as they began the second day of a 30-day sentence for violating antitrust laws in the giant electrical power conspiracy.

John H. Chiles Jr., 57, Sharon, Pa., and Charles I. Mauntel, 60, Drexel Hill, Pa., chose unexpectedly to begin their jail terms Friday.

The two men, accompanied by their lawyers, surrendered to the U.S. marshal in Philadelphia. They were silent and unsmiling.

U.S. Dist. Judge J. Cullen Ganey, who had sentenced the two with five other high-salaried executives Monday for illegally fixing prices and rigging bids to stifle competition, granted the request for the early jail start. He had given the seven men a week to arrange their personal affairs.

They earn up to $125,000 a year.

Four other prominent electrical firm executives, three from General Electric Co., start their jail terms here on Monday.

The seventh, John Marvin Cook of Milwaukee, vice president of Cutler-Hammer Inc., got a week's postponement so he can attend his daughter's engagement party.

The three GE officials are William S. Ginn, 45, a vice president from Schenectady, N. Y., who heads 17,000 employes of America's biggest electrical firm; Lewis J. Burger, Fort Wayne, Ind., division manager, and George E. Burens, Schenectady, vice president and divisional manager.

The other ordered jailed is Edwin R. Jung, vice president of Clark Controller Co. of Cleveland, Ohio.

Judge Ganey, in winding up the criminal portions of the government's 18-month investigation of the electrical power industry, fined 29 firms and 44 of their executives a total of $1,924,500.

Civil damage suits by aggrieved customers of the firms governmental agencies, including the U. S. government, and private utilities and businesses—are expected to be filed later this year. They probably will claim millions of dollars in damages.

School Aid Demand Far Exceeds Supply

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—School districts around the state requesting financial assistance are faced with the fact that demand far exceeds the supply.

The State Board of Education will receive a report Monday indicating that districts have applied for almost 10 times as much money as the Ohio Department of Education has available for assistance in building classrooms.

Twenty - one school districts have asked for financial help to the tune of $9,872,383. Only $1 million remains from funds authorized in the 1955, 1957 and 1959 legislatures department officials said.

Kennedy Selects More Ambassadors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles Franklin Baldwin, a former Foreign Service officer, has been named ambassador to Malaya by President Kennedy.

The White House has also announced that nine ambassadors have agreed to remain indefinitely in their present diplomatic posts.

The nine who will stay at their posts are in addition to a group of 19 whose continuance as ambassadors was announced earlier this week. They are:

GLOOM WORKS OVERTIME — Seymour E. Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower expert, says the unemployment situation is gloomier than at any time for the past two decades with release of these figures. The count rose 850,000 in January to 5,385,000, postwar record for the month.

France Hopes Formal Apology To Soothe Russian Feelings

PARIS (AP)—France hoped today its formal expression of regrets would calm Soviet tempers over a French jet fighter that fired tracer shots across the nose of a plane carrying Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

France's charge d'affaires in Moscow, Jean de la Grandville, visited the Soviet Foreign Ministry Friday night to deliver an apology — apparently ordered by President Charles de Gaulle himself—for the interception off Algeria's Mediterranean coast Thursday.

In Moscow today, there was no outward indication Soviet officialdom would make a great affair of the incident despite almost unprecedented bitter reaction from the Soviet man-on-the-street.

The Soviet Communist party official newspaper Pravda called the interception "a regretable incident."

When the news first reached Moscow, Soviet citizens displayed anger greater even than that shown during the American U2 spy plane incident or the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon.

The French Foreign Ministry said De la Grandville at his own request met with soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko for a half-hour and promised a full investigation.

Reports received so far are incomplete, the French said, but De la Grandville "expressed, here and now, in any case, the sincere regrets of the French government."

The French said they have determined, however, that the Soviet pilot strayed from his flight plan and vered southward into France's "zone of responsibiliity."

The Sovet Embassy in Rabat, Morocco, where Brezhnev's four-engined Ilyushin 18 landed unharmed shortly after the incident, denied the Soviet pilot strayed from his previously stated line of flight.

The plan was on course, the Soviets said, when three two-jet French Vulture fighters appeared and one fired two bursts of tracer bullets.

The Soviets said the Soviet pilot immediately radioed Algiers radio control identifying his plane and that the French fighters then turned away.

'C' Is No Longer Good College Grade

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State University Board of Trustees took note Friday of the fact that a "C" mark no longer represents average work, that the average has climbed midway between "C" and "B".

The board decided to redefine the grading system. Now an "A" is defined as the highest quality of passing work instead of the old definition of excellent. "B" now means second-quality insted of good. "C" means third - quality of passing work instead of average and "D" stands for lowest-quality passing work rather than poor.

"E" still stands for failure.

Henry Ford Is Hailed By General Motors

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Henry Ford has won recognition for advancing production techniques at General Motors Corp.

Western Rumor Is Decried By Congolese

Katanga Government Reports Finding Auto Used during Flight

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga Province officials today flatly denied rumors they concocted a story that ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba escaped from jail, so they could cover his death at the hands of his political foes.

The denial came in a communique announcing that searchers for the missing Lumumba had found a car he and two political associates used to escape from a farmhouse prison at Mutshatsa, 220 miles west of Elisabethville.

Some Western observers in the Congo said they suspect Lumumba is dead or that his escape was engineered so he could be shot while trying to escape.

The Katanga government, taking note of these rumors, said in a communique: "The Katanga government denies it organized the escape. It appears his (Lumumba's) escape was made possible by some fault or intervention by his guards, and this will be subject to inquiry."

The communique said the car, a black Ford sedan found about 20 miles north of Kasaji where Lumumba was imprisoned, was identified as the automobile he and his companions seized after overpowering their guards.

Western observers fear that, dead or alive, Lumumba presents the Congo with its greatest threat of all-out civil war. His supporters control about one-third of the Congo, and in the past his fiery oratory has been capable of whipping them to a frenzy.

If Lumumba is dead, observers said, his supporters in Oriental and Kivu provinces almost certainly would embark on a path of vengeance, possibly against the white population.

If he is alive, they said, he will be able to assume active leadership of his followers and touch off an all-out major civil war.

The Katanga government communique said the escape car which searchers found "was started by unscrewing the ignition lock and joining the ignition wires together.

"There was no sign that the occupants of car (found damaged on the road) had been hurt in the crash, and all traces of their movements after leaving the damaged car had been obliterated by rain and people passing the spot afterwards."

The feeling here that Lumumba was already dead was strengthened among observers.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga has shown no inclination to take personal immediate action about the case, or even to comment on it.

Newsmen asked a government spokesman to get some sort of reaction from Tshombe, but they were told "the president is busy with the visit of President Yulu of the Republic of Congo (French) and doesn't feel Lumumba's escape justifies comments. It is not important enough."

In denying it had engineered the escape, the Katanga government tilt will start at 7:30.

The same night the Darby-Monroe victor will tangle with the Walnut- Scioto winner at 9.

The glamorous tourney will reach its apex February 24 with the championship and consolation games. The first and second place teams then will move on to the Central District Class A area of warfare.

In previous years Pickaway County was allowed three entries to the district by virtue of the number of teams in the county. With the number now decreased to eight schools, the county now sends only two. Previously the county league winner was an automatic choice.

Today's drawing by coaches was directed by Ashville, defending tournament champion. Benis Lutz handled the proceedings.

On hand for the drawing was Coach Keith Merrin of Logan Elm whose team wrapped up the league championship last night with a 64-52 win over Wiliamsport (See story on sports page). The way the chips fell today, the two teams meet again Wednesday in the tourney.

Ross County Prisoner Stabs Deputy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A handcuffed prisoner being transported from the Ross County Jail at Chillicothe to Ohio Penitentiary here suddenly produced a knife and stabbed Deputy Sheriff O. C. Bowser in the neck Friday.

Sheriff Fred Heintzelman said the weapon was a sharpened table knife apparently hidden in his sleeve by Charles William Mallow, 28, a parole violator.

A spokesman at Mercy Hospital said Bowser's injury was not serious.

Heintzelman radioed for help and Mallow and another prisoner, James William Dyer, 20, seated beside the sheriff, who was driving, were taken in charge by Franklin County deputies.

Heintzelman said Dyer, sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory for breaking and entering a Chillicothe bakery eight days after he had been placed on probation, took no part in the attack.

The sheriff said Mallow made his move at Ohio 665 and U. S. 23, near the Scioto Downs Race Track.

Mallow is a son of a Chillicothe fire captain. He is under sentence to 1-20 years on a phony check charge.

Water Agency Foreman Is All Out of Water

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP)—Henry A. Galipeau, a foreman for the city water department, lives within a stone's throw of 200 million gallons of water — but his home has been without water for a week.

The water pipes in Galipeau's house have been frozen all week.

He said Friday night he has been so busy thawing out the city's pipes he hasn't had time to take care of his own.

Norridgewock, Maine, was established on the site of an old Indian village, also named Norridgewock.

Low Pay Scale Worker Found Best Prey for Heart Attack

CHICAGO (AP) — Athree -year study of heart attacks among a wide range of personnel in a large industrial operation challenges the common belief that men at the top have the most to fear.

Actually, the worker down toward the bottom of the income scale is the most likely prey for heart trouble, say doctors Sidney Pell and C. A. D'Alonzo of Wilmington, Del.

In the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, released today, they report the findings of a study covering 89,089 employes of E. I du Pont de Nemours & Co. The group, ranging in age from 17 through 64, resided principally in the Middle Atlantic and Southeastern states. It included 75,301 men and 13,788 women.

Many factors reflecting the incidence of heart disease are covered. One of the principal areas of examination is economic and job status.

Dividing the employes into five economic - job responsibility groups, the doctors found the lowest incidence of heart attacks—2 per 1,000—among those in the highest bracket.

Except for the lowest bracket, each descent in the income scale brought greater incidence of attacks.

"Our data," they wrote, "are inconsistent with the idea that the increased responsibility of men at the upper levels of management increases their susceptibility to coronary heart disease.

"Although stress may be an important factor in the development of the disease, the level of job responsibility is not necessarily an indicator of the degree of stress to which an individual is subjected."

In this connection, they said that persons in managerial positions "may derive a great deal of satisfaction" from their jobs, while those drawing less pay for less responsibility "may suffer from feelings of resentment and frustration."

Tobacco $$ Are Available

Applications for 1961 new grower burley tabacco allotments are now being accepted in the Pickaway County ASC Office, according to announcement made by J. Austin Dowden, office manager.

He pointed out that all of the following requirements must be met in order to qualify:

The applicant must:

1. Have had at least two years experience within the last five years (1956-1060) in growing tobacco as owner, operator, share tenant or cash renter.
2. Live on the farm.
3. Own the farm.
4. Operate the farm.
5. Not own or operate another farm that will have a 1961 tobacco acreage allotment established on it, and the farm covered by the application must not have a 1961 allotment established for any other type of tobacco.
6. Derive at least 50 per cent of his entire livelihood from the farm covered by the application.

In addition, the farm must not have been part of a farm that has had an allotment established on it within the past five years, unless the entire tract covered by the application was determined to be noncropland at the time it was divided from the parent farm. A farm that has lost its allotment within the past five years because of failure to harvest tobacco in any of those years would be eligible for a new grower allotment if all other eligibility requirements are met.

Applications can be secured from the Pickaway County ASC office. Feb. 15, 1961 is the last day an application can be filed.

Wilmington SCO Champs

Hurricane Downs Hillsboro for Title

Wilmington put the finishing touches on its South Central Ohio League basketball crown last night with a thrilling 63-60 win over Hillsboro. The game was played at Paint Valley.

A crowd estimated at 3,000 saw title, but only after a bitter struggle. Hillsboro, the league's second place team, grabbed a nine-point lead in the second quarter, but sharshooters Jim Kidd and Marvin Gregory turned on to lead the winners out of the deficit.

Kidd finished the evening with 24 points and Gregory had 17. Ace John Cummings was high for Hillsboro with 19.

Additional league action saw Circveleville win its second SCO game of the season, handing host Pleasant View a 52-50 defeat.

MIAMI Trace surprised Washington C. H., 65-57, and Greenfield jolted Franklin Heights, 60-58.

Wilmington, owning a 11-0 league record, still has three loop games to go, but they will have no bearing on the standings. Remaining on the schedule are Franklin Heights, Miami Trace and Washington C. H.

Western Rumor

said, "The U.N. Security Council is meeting at present to discuss the Congo situation, and it would be an inopportune time for any escape of Lumumba to be manufactured."

This announcement came as demands mounted in the United Nations for an investigation of the reported escape.

The Soviet Union and 10 other called on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to determine if Lumumba really did escape or if he is dead.

There has been no evidence to substantiate the widespread rumors that the escape was manufactured.

Katanga officials said the fugitives probably are trying to reach the Bukama area controlled by Lumumbists, 200 miles north, a distance men on foot could cover in about a week.

Pages and Pages of Drivel

Government archives are flled with information of interest to contemporary and future citizens, but they are also contaminated by some of the most meaningless printed refuse to be found anywhere. It is a natural phenomenon of big government to produce mountains of paperwork — much of it unnecessary to begin with — and then provide warehouses of filing cabinets to store it.

It is one thing to satisfy the egos of minor bureaucrats by honoring their contributions with file space for posterity to ignore, but it is quite another to deliberately distort the intent of an official publication of some real importance such as the Congressional Record.

This publication is, as it is plainly titled, a log of the activities of both branches of Congress. It is intended to be an irrefutable record of what was said and done daily and includes valuable information on the progression of bills, the meetings of committees and the absence of members.

Persons reading the Congressional Record for any day will feel proud of the volume of work being performed by a relative handful of members. They will find as many as 50 pages of speeches, recommendations, reprints of articles which have appeared in private publications, summaries of current legislative business, and comments on everything from political trends to the fine work of the summer fair committee in Mountainview, Okla.

There have even been laudatory comments on Matt Dillon as one of the great lawmen of pioneer Kansas.

In time, however, the reader becomes disturbed by the very volume of work he sees before him. How is it possible, he wonders, to accomplish so much within the limits of 24 hours? The answer is, of course that the Congressional Record is more than a mere diary of what actually transpired on the floor of Congress.

Senators and congressmen have unlimited privilege to change, delete, add and "revise" the official records of House and Senate clerks. A few exercises this privilege liberally. At a cost of more than $80 a page, the taxpayer pays a hefty subsidy for legislative verbosity.

For several days after the end of the last session of Congress, the Congressional Rceord was published until the backlog of unmade speeches and unheard praise and criticism left behind by campaign - minded members could be exhausted. Representative Powell of New York alone used up 15 pages at a cost of more than $1,200.

Many members of Congress have attempted to restrict the ease with which extraneous matter can be inserted and official remarks changed, but with no success. The Record has become too valuable a medium for commending constituents and belaboring opponents.

It is unfortunate that the whims of the few who make consistent use of the Congressional Record for these purposes should be permitted to distort the actual record of the United States Congress.

Unknown Events Affect All

By George Sokolsky

As I write this, the snow outside my window must be 15 inches or more. I had planned to go to the Metropolitan Opera to hear "Il Trovatore". However, the weather is not such as will bring me outdoors; instead I listen to Verdi's opera on the radio.

This is one of a million examples of imponderables that occur in one's life, the sudden, the unusual, the bizarre, the surprising. Had this blizzard occurred last week, my daughter might have had a few days grace to cram for her examinations; had it started a few hours earlier, she would not have flown to Boston.

These imponderables affect everything and everybody. Recently a man threw up his hands in Jove - like disgust when I mentioned imponderables; yet the Christmas blizzard cost his firm several hundred thousand dollars.

It is not only snow that comes at the wrong time; a word spoken by a politician out of order, a movie actress appearing in a new style, a rain during a political parade — a thousand and one unplanned, uncalculated little events can and do occur to change the course of events.

Had Napoleon not dallied in Warsaw, he might not have had such a frightful time over his conquest of Russia. Had Charles Martel not defeated the Turks at Tours, Western Europe might have been Moslem.

Had the Kaiser not helped Lenin to reach Petrograd, Germany today would not be divided in two. Had there been no Dreyfus Trial in France, in 1894, it is quite possible that there might not be an Israel in 1961.

The politician who believes that he can depend upon five - year plans or seven - year plans is as balmy as Mao Tze-tung who did not expect a famine to bring his economic structure toppling. And yet, droughts, floods and famines have been perennial in China and have upset regimes before this.

In fact, Herbert Hoover, when he was Taotai of the Yellow River, in a conversation with Li Hung-chang, prophesied the fall of the Manchu Empire because of the flooding of that river — but that is another matter.

Imponderables play an enormous part in politics. Catholicism defeated one candidate for the Presidency, but elected another. The Ku Klux Klan notwithstanding, the South, which was expected to vote for Nixon, voted for Kennedy.

Robert A. Taft, who had devoted his entire life to the Republican Party, emerging as its leader, could not get the nomination for President despite his suitability. It went first to his Republican competitor, Thomas E. Dewey, and then to one who became a Republican for the occasion, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who did everything according to the rules, was cashiered by President Truman who became Vice President by accident and was on hand to take the highest office when President Roosevelt died. By all calculations, Henry Wallace should have been nominated as Vice President but Roosevelt said to "Clear it with Sidney", meaning Hillman and Sidney preferred Harry Truman to James Byrnes.

Nobody planned it that way. Surely Harry Truman did not. Nor did Herbert Hoover, a mining engineer, when he worked in Manchuria, or the Urals, or in Australia expect to become President of the United States. He never planned for that.

An imponderable is a state of affairs which comes into existence without known cause, like a sudden plague of locusts. The farmer whose crop is eaten had no expectancy of such a calamity. He did not move a muscle to bring on the locusts! But there they are and his crop is gone and he will vote for another Congressman because this one brought him hard luck.

The imponderables plague politicians and statesmen who suffer endlessly from things that unexpectedly happen to them. For instance, no Democrat, a year ago, would have believed it possible that Mayor Wagner of New York would get into so heavy a quarrel with Carmine De Sapio, the Tammany boss, that the Democrats would be disrupted to the point of danger. This quarrel was unnecessary but it occurred.

It could give New York City a Republican Mayor; it could re-elect Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who only a week or two ago looked as though he were moving to oblivion; it could give President Kennedy a tough time in 1964. Whoever started that row was no friend of anybody. It is a political imponderable.

Loren Eiseley tells about a great atomic scientist who picked up a tiny tortoise in the desert to take back to his children. Then he had a change of mind and carefully put the tortoise back in the exact spot he had found it.

"It just struck me," explained the scientist, "that for one man I have tampered enough with the universe."

100 Years Ago this week in the U.S.A.

A formidable force of Federal military strength is forming off Fort Pickens and the other fortifications at Pensacola, Florida. In the fort is Lt. A. J. Slemmer and his command of 81 men, while in the waters offshore lay the Navy's men-of-war, Sabine, St. Louis, and Macedonian.

It is reported from Norfolk that the steam sloop Brooklyn put under way on the 25th with 200 men from Fort Monroe. It is rumored that the Brooklyn's destination is Fort Pickens.

This massing of force has some quarters anticipating that the Federal forces are planning to retake the big Navy Yard at Pensacola which was seized by state authorities on the 12th. Others feel that the show of strength is only for the protection of the small garrison at Pickens.

Whatever the case, it is apparent that the Federal government has developed real concern over the protection of what property is left after the rash of seizures by state officials. On Wednesday the War Department issued orders to the commanding officer of the Department of the West (General Harney) to concentrate troops in the vicinity of the arsenal at St. Louis, Missouri. It is reported that fear exists relative to the safety of the depot in this border state.

Efforts to check the ever widening gap between sectional differences continue to be pursued. Former President John Tyler arrived in Washington on Thursday to confer with President Buchanan and present his parent state's (Virginia) proposals for a "Peace Conference".

It is said the ex-president became highly incensed on Friday over a report of the sailing of the Brooklyn. President Buchanan reportedly calmed the Virginia patriarch by telling him the Brooklyn was on an errand of mercy connected in no way with reinforcement of Fort Sumter. If this report is true, it cannot be further questioned that the Brooklyn's destination is Pickens in the Gulf of Mexico.

WHITE HOUSE informants state that the President has replied to the correspondence from Southern Senators concerning the mission of Col. Hayne from South Carolina. Through Secretary of War Holt, a message was transmitted that outlined the lack of power of the President to deal in such matters, referring the responsibilities to Congress.

Secession has become a face in Louisiana. On Saturday the state convention voted 113 to 17 in favor of secession resolutions that included reference to free navigation of the Mississippi River by all friendly states. Meanwhile, in Georgia, Governor Brown has seized the important government arsenal at Augusta. In Texas the state convention has been seated but representative is reported from little more than half the state's 122 counties.

The Grand Jury of the District of Columbia indicted former ecretary of War Floyd on Friday for malversation in office. The charge apparently stems from the Russell Indian Bond scandal, in which Floyd is said to have had an inauspicious part Floyd has publicly claimed his innocence and is now free on bail.

In other Grand Jury action it is noted that the district judge in New Yok City informed the Grand Jury there that it is an act of treason to supply arms and munitions to seceded states. As a result ships have been seized and their cargos confiscated.

The bill to admit Kansas Territory as a state needs only the President's signature. The bill passed the House on the 28th.

100 Years Ago, Lincoln Observed Birthday in Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP) — One hundred years ago Sunday, Abraham Lincoln observed his 52nd birthday. A big part of the day was spent in Cincinnati.

Lincoln was on a round-about trek from Springfield, Ill., to Washington for his inauguration as president of a nation that a little more than a month after he took office was to be plunged into the costly and bloody Civil War.

What happened on that day a hundred years ago?

To an extent, it was somewhat the same as would happen today. There was an official greeting at the railroad station, a parade before crowds and then a short speech by the president-elect.

Beyond that, however, there apparently was little to resemble what would happen in 1961.

The story of Lincoln's appearance here didn't even warrant a story on page 1 of the Cincinnati Enquirer of Feb. 13. It was on an inside page and was added on to the story of Lincoln's appearance in Indianapolis the day before and his trip to Cincinnatii.

The next day, when Lincoln went on to Columbus, the Enquirer's only mention was a paragraph in a story from Columbus that he had left here at 9 o'clock that morning.

The Enquirer of Feb. 13 reports a crowd gathered at the station but said:

"There was a big gathering but in all candor we must state there was as limited amount of enthusiasm as even the enemies of the president-elect could desire."

At one place in his story, the unnamed reporter said a friend pointed to "the mixed mass of the 'peculiar institution' and their sympathetic white brethren" and remarked it was "a visible illustration of the black Republican platform."

After being greeted at the station, the president-elect was made a part of a parade headed by military units.

The bitter spirit of the times with civil war nearing is shown in this statement:

"We need not describe Mr. Lincoln but as he stood upon the platform of the car, hat in hand, listening to the short address of the chairman of the committee, comparisons flitted before the vision which 'Mrs. Malaprop, pronounced as 'odorous.'"

The Enquirer said the streets were lined with people whose "curiosity to see the man whom circumstances had elevated to so fearful a responsibile position in the history of a mighty nation appeared to be the all engrossing sentiment."

Cheers came from the crowd but the Enquirer said those who "harraed (sic)" were in proportion of about one to ten.

There was a different reaction from Lincoln, however. After being introduced by Mayor Richard M. Bishop, he said:

"This magnificent demonstration far exceeds my most sanquine expectations."

He declared the compliments were not directed to him personally but to the president-elect and said it would have been the same if either of his opponents had been elected.

The birthday visit here in 1861 was the third and last to Cincinnati for Lincoln. He had been here in 1859 for a speech and had had a disappointing visit here two or three years before that.

Lincoln had spent all one summer working up a case in a patent infringement suit. When he arrived here for the trial he discovered his client had hired Edwin M. Santon of Pittsburgh and a Cincinnati attorney.

Stanton, referring to Lincoln as a "long-armed baboon,' shunted the future president to the sidelines in the trial of the suit.

Later, Lincoln named that same Edwin Stanton to be his secretary of war.

And, although 1861 newspaper coverage of a visit by a president-elect is far different from that of 1961, there still were "angles" to be found 100 years ago.

Alongside the Enquirer's Feb. 13, 1861 story of Lincoln's appearance here was a small advertisement. It said:

"PERSONAL
ABRAHAM LINCOLN
"Will find it to his advantage by calling at the Union Loan Office, No 138 Sycamore St., between 4th and 5th. Adams and Lipman, proprietors."

The best guess is that the Messrs. Adams and Lipman figured Lincoln might need a loan to get the rest of the way to Washington.

The Saxons had a word for Spring. It was Lencten, shortened, in time, to Lent.

So the name Lent was given to that springtime period of 40 fast days from Ash Wednesday until Easter.

Lent came to mean a time of penitence. And it is. But it is also a time of preparation, and of promise. For because Lent means Spring, it heralds good things to come. It forecasts the glorious message of Easter. It is the dawn of the most beautiful season of the year.

The bare branches of these trees will burst into bud and leaf with the touch of Spring. Our thoughts during Lent, our personal preparations, also will reach fruition when the 40 days are through.

Lent is the time for prayer and self-examination. Make this Lenten season really mean something by seeking help and guidance at your church services.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Plain Janes' Grow Pretty With Simple Grooming Tips

If you are a plain Jane, do not despair. Beauty can develop in the teen years, if you help sow the seeds of charm that can grow with the years.

But you must know your own looks, and learn how to bring out the best in YOU. A peek at the photograph albums of some of our most glamorous movie stars would reveal that they were not true beauties in their teen years. But they used those years to learn how to improve their looks.

Take an inventory of yourself, and begin your remodeling plan. Correct the obvious faults before you tackle the big flaws.

Grooming: It's the habit that pays off. Are your legs fuzzfree? (Easy to remedy by frequent use of razor.) Is your hair clean and shiny? (Shampoo it at the first sign of limpness and keep combs and brushes clean.) Do you bathe regularly? Brush you teeth after meals?

Do you wear spanking clean lingerie and hosiery? (This is very imporatnt during the years when glands are more active, especially if girls are athletic and engage in ater school sportes.) Dripdry quickdrying underwear makes it possible to have clean underclothes at hand in a jiffy.

Do you have a blemished complexion? If so, don't hide in a corner or walk around with you head down. One visit to your doctor may curb the situation and prevent a bad case of acne. He may recommend a salve or lotion, and suggest a diet to help clear blight. The increased activity of oil glands during teen years often makes pores muddy and creates blackheads. Makeup should be removed with several soapings of warm water, and skin should be rinsed thoroughly to make sure there is no residue to clog the pores.

Is your hair style the best one for you?u? If your face is chubby, do not wear a coiffure that is flattened on top and pulled out at the sides. It will make your face seem rounder. Wear a hairstyle that puts width across the top of your head with sides flattened to the face. Bangs that start at the center of the head and fan forward into a wide spread just slightly below the hairline is an ideal hair style for your type.

If you face is long, keep the hair flat on top and fuffed out at side. Curl your hair under with big puff rollers. A center part with little winged curls on either side may be a good style.

A square-jawed type should wear the hair pulled upward. Any easy-to-care-for style that goes upward from the forehead. Such as a series of feathery curls or a large upswept wave to one side will offset the squareface look.

Feature Flaws: These may be corrected by the deft use of make up on those big special occasions. A wide nose may be made to look narrower by using two foundations, light down the bridge of the nose, and a much darker shade on the sides of the nose. Apply the same principle to cut down a wide or plump face, giving the illusion of a slimmer face.

Uste the lighter makeup over nose, chin and forehead, and the darker makeup at the sides of the face. Use a darker powder over the entire area.

Figure Faults: If you are overweight — heavy-hipped and tire-waisted now is the time to learn what to eat, and to start regular exercises. Summer and winter sports, swimming, skiing, skating, and even walking will help your reducing plan along.

New Home Accessories Have Culture

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

New home furnishings look important, even in lower - priced home accessories, one pleasing feature of the recent International home furnishings show in Chicago.

Wall accessories are an example. Cheap prints, gaudy brackets, and planters have been replaced by handsome wood, metal and tile wall accessories in 18th Century, modern or classical designs.

Old tavern signs, cookie cutters and silhouette prints are found in Colonial settings. A pair of hand-painted wooden placques shows old Chinese figures on a background of antique silver leaf.

A collection of Danish Modern wall art features a stylized vertical tree with sculptured doves on Berry - laden branches; a Viking barge; a set of four trees, representing the seasons. Key and fish still go to the walls. Wood figures are popular wall sculpture. Mirrors include copies of Chippendale and Louis XV designs.

A wall planter is in a Cornucopia design inspired by a Renaissance original. It is finished in gold leaf. A series of humorous floor planters include whimsical sculptural figures made of decorated aluminum.

Floor coverings feature more floral patterns to complement the trend to Early American and 18th Century furniture. Solid carpet colors include those that will harmonize with this new trend — a red - rust, gold, green and yellow.

New rug designs include tapestry weaves and monochromatic designs. Area rugs continue to be popular, and new techinques have made strong advances. Tuft - dyed multi - colored patterns in broadloom are made possible by forcing the tufts into shaped dye-wells of a pattern mold.

Hard floor coverings are growing in stature. The planks and squares of teak, oak, cherry and walnut vinyl are dressed lumberdeep, shaded into random striation to give the appearance of real wood. One flooring and counter topping is in Byzantine style tile art forms.

Lamp designs follow the Early American, Italian Classical and Modern theme. Classic forms of bottles, vases and urns are lamps. Ceramic bases in brown and rust - red are hand decorated with patterns of fruit or abstract themes. Post, banister - turned and candlestick shapes are in antique finishes to harmonize with Early American designs.

Lamps for patios, gardens and entryways designed by George Nelson include a hanging beehive desigh, a pyramid - shaped hood on a table - like frame recommended for lighting paths, 2-7-61.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Modern Office Procedure

DEAR ABBY: In our office the work day is supposed to start at 9:00 A. M. At exactly 9:00 A. M. in come these three girls who work here, too. They have their hair up in curlers with bandanas wrapped around their heads. They haven't a drop of makeup on. They hang up their coats and go directly to the ladies room, where they laugh, talk, comb their hair and put on their faces. They get to their desks at 9:45, fiddle around in their desk drawers and wait until the 10 o'clock coffee break.

I've worked in offices for 28 years and have never seen anything like it, but I am told this is typical. Does this go on in offices where the help is supposed to be earning their money?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: No. Only in offices where the office manager isn't earning his.

DEAR ABBY: I just found out that my mother's maiden name is on my birth certificate, which means that she was not married to my father at the time of my birth. She is dead now. I know that I am illegitimate, but that's not my problem. I was married at a large church wedding and have four children. I am worried sick over the fact that they are illegitimate because of my history. Where do they stand?

VERY WORRIED

DEAR VERY: You have nothing to worry about. If YOU were married before the birth of your children, THEY are legitimate.

DEAR ABBY: If I don't get help with my problem pretty soon, you will be reading about our family in the headlines.

My husband hates our 14-year-old son like poison. (He tells him so to his face.) Our boy has never been in any serious trouble. He's not a very good student, but his father picks on him so much it is no wonder he is always nervous and upset. He is our only child and all this fighting is putting me in my grave.

I love my husband, but if I show any affection toward him in front of my son, the boy gets jealous and hurt. And I don't dare to show any love for my son in front of my husband or he gets violently jealous. I feel like a bone between two dogs. Please help me.

A BONE BETWEEN TWO DOGS

DEAR "BONE": The hostility between your husband and son didn't develop over night, and it won't be resolved that quickly. Your husband and son both need therapy. If you can't afford a psychiatrist, get in touch with your local Family Service Association for counseling service.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HOWARD: You've been angry too long. Washington's Birthday would be an ideal time to "bury the hatchet."

What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Note to Brides: If you are halving a recipe, and you want to divide an egg do it this way. Beat the egg until the yolk and white are combined and measure the whole thing; then use half the measure.

Logan Elm Captures County Cage Crown

Deermen Bow In 64-52 Tilt

New School Cagers Unbeaten in League

By RICHARD DAVIS
Herald Staff Writer

Logan Elm completed a successful cage season last night by defeating the Williamsport Deers in a 64-52 battle to win the county league with seven straight victories.

Logan Elm walked away with two championships last night. The Braves reserve team copped its league also with a 40-45 win over the Deers. They have a 15-1 season record, being defeated only by the Amanda Aces November 26.

Cage fans were packed in the Williamsport gym, with standing-room only before the main event began.

It was Homecoming night for the Deers and although they suffered a loss, they put up a good fight against the undefeated newcomers.

BOTH teams displayed a fine show for excited specators. Coach Glen Chester played his boys hard against the Braves and not entirely without success. The Deers topped the champs on the foul line by sinking 12 free throws to LE's. 8.

Sharing scoring honors for the 1961 Champs were Denny Valentine and Bob Hart with 17 points each.

Valentine boosted the scoreboard with eight field goals and one charity shot for his total. Hart found the range for eight and one in following suit.

Chuck Spangler was a spearhead in the onslaught with five goals for a total of 10.

Marty Noble zoomed back as high man for the Deers by finishing with six field goals and six charities for 18 points. He racked most of them from outside.

Valentine used his unique weapon of one-hand push shots to lead the Braves to victory. Hart shot mostly from under the nets.

BROOKS McCOY, another sharp shooting Deer, finished with 12 marks, five goals and two free throws. He made his share of the points mostly from outside.

The battle got off to a fairly even start with LE totaling 13 points in the first period to the Deers' nine. The Braves quickened the pace in the second quarter to end at intermission time with a 27-18 margin. They continued to carry a ten point lead at the end of the third stanza and bolstered it two more in the finale.

The Braves began their fight for the cage crown December 9 with a surprise upset, defeating the powerful Ashville Broncos in a 55-53 skirmish.

The tribe moved on to another victory the following week by passing the Walnut Tigers, 62-54.

As they pushed on toward the league crown they handed Monroe a 77-59 decision; Jackson Wildcats a 51-40 defeat; Scioto was dumped, 66-47; Darby lost out in a 43-47 test; and the final touches were put on with last night's win over Williamsport.

Coach Keith Merrin is to be congratulated for a fine job of coaching throughout the season. He has managed to produce a good ball club with a fine sense of sportsmanship.

Pistons Set Pace For No. 2 Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Pistons, struggling to maintain their grip on second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, today held a two-game lead over the Los Angeles Lakers in their season-long battle for runner-up honors.

The Pistons opened the gap Friday night by beating Boston's battered Celtics 137-134 for only their second triumph over the NBA champions at home in a 15-game span stretching over four years.

The Celtics played the game without two of their key stars—Bob Cousy and Bill Russell.

Determined Tigers Snare 52-50 Win over Panthers

Circleville's cage force pulled a hot one out of the fire last night, handing host Pleasant View a 52-50 defeat.

It was a pleasant turn of the tables for the Tigers who have been the victims of several close losses this season. Their grim determination would not let history repeat itself last night.

Almost the equivalent of two games was packed into the final four minutes of play. The score was tied five times in this interlude before Luther Johnson put the Tigers ahead to stay with two crucial foul shots to break a 49-49 deadlock. The clock showed 1:34 to go at the time.

With 31 seconds left, Melvin Waples of the Panthers hit a foul toss and made a second one only to see it cancelled when a teammate stepped over the line.

ONLY 25 seconds remained when Clesson Thomas calmly walked to the charity stripe to give CHS another point for insurance. Pleasant View got one more chance, but Garold Dade swiped the ball to end it all.

The contest, marking Circleville's first win after six straight losses, was close and bruising all the way. The Tigers led 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, 24-23 at halftime and 41-38 at the close of the third period.

A measure of revenge was gained in the victory. Earlier in the season the Panthers administered a 57-42 loss to the Tigers on the CHS court.

Junior Sam Weller, Circleville's top scorer and one of the leaders in the SCO league, provided the Tigers with a vital punch as he triggered 24 points on eight buckets and eight foul tosses. Many of his tallies were on a neat jump shot.

Dick Kline, another junior, was a sparkplug throughout with his 11 points. He tallied nine in the opening period to keep the Tigers in solid contention.

Dale Creamer was the Panther giving Circleville the most trouble. The tall forward hit five goals and nine foul throws for 19.

RON STEWART hit 12 for the hosts. Bob Foster, big 6-7 Panther center, was held to 11 on some close guarding by Kline and Weller.

Pleasant View jumped away to a 3-0 lead before Kline clipped a bucket and a free throw to knot things. The Panthers opened a 10-7 gap before Kline tipped one in, then worked himself free for two layups on neat passes from his mates.

In the second quarter the Panthers again went ahead, 16-13, but Weller hit a jumper and Thomas a hook to shove the Tigers into the lead again. The advantage then changed hands four times before Circleville came up with its 24-23 intermission grip.

The same close battle prevailed in the third frame as the Tigers cracked 17 points and the Panthers 15. Weller was the workman for Circleville with 11 tallies and Creamer had eight for PV.

Tension mounted in the final frame when Weller pushed Circleville ahead, 43-42, on a jumper. Waples knotted the count on a foul shot to signal a hectic struggle to come for the remaining minutes.

The two teams then traded blow for blow until Johnson's two free tosses and the one by Thomas wrapped it up.

* * *

CIRCLEVILLE pushed aside its old personal foul nemesis and even used this department to advantage by scoring 16 of 24 charities. Weller dropped in eight of 10 and Thomas five of eight.

The Tigers hit 18 of 47 chances from the field for a 38.2 per cent average. Pleasant View connected on 17 of 49 for 34.6 per cent.

Circleville made it a clean sweep for the evening as the Kitten reserve team wrecked hovoc on the young Panthers for a 58-45 verdict.

The contest was never in doubt as the locals rushed to a 15-9 lead in the first quarter and a 35-20 edge at the half.

Sophomore Freddie Moore again provided the Kittens with an able scoring punch, collecting 18 points to lead the point production.

David Bass, a freshman, came up with his highest total of the year, netting 14 points on an assortment of long shots and drives. Dave Hannahs was the third reservist in double figures with 13.

MOGAN and George were tops for Pleasant View with 13 points each.

Coach Dick Snouffer's cagers will remain idle until Friday when Miami Trace comes here. The following night they meet Hillsboro in a game scheduled at Paint Valley.

Tiger Team Trims Grove City for Perfect Showing

TO THE SHOWERS — Circleville Wrestling Coach John Current gets a shoulder ride to the shower room, courtesy of the victorious members of his mat team. The CHS wrestlers had just polished off Grove City, 39-7, to rack up their eighth dual win without a loss this season. Lending a hand in the carrying are John Williams, left, and Phil Wing, right. (Photo by Mike Wilson)

Circleville's vaunted wrestling team had a lot to shout about here last night after crushing Grove City in a 39-7 match.

The victory represented the Tigers' eighth dual win of the season without a loss. The happy outcome meant a trip to the shower room for Coach John Current.

Circleville registered the triumph on four pins, four decisions and one draw. Grove City picked up five of its points on a default after a CHS grappler was injured and couldn't continue. The draw accounted for the other two.

Grabbing pins were Jack Cook in the 106 - pound class, Bobby Owens in the 123, Chuck McDowell in the 141 and Tom Moore in the 157. Earning decisions were Tim Mogan in the 115, Dave Troutman in the 130, John Williams in the 168 and Ron Cain in the 178.

CHS collected another five points by forfeit in the heavyweight division as Grove City had no eligible contender. However, big Rupert Rudd of the Tigers pinned Pike of Grove City in an exhibition battle.

Dever Jolly, working for CHS in the 136 class, suffered the default after being injured early in the bout. He took a blow in the face which stopped the match. The Tiger scrapper recovered ok a few minutes later.

Circleville soared to a 16-0 margin before Grove City broke the scoring column with the default. Two matches later Phil Wing of Circleville and Martin of Grove City fought to a draw in the 148 division.

Last night's struggle ended a second straight successful season for the Tigers. Last year they won nine of 10 dual meets. This marks the third season the locals have participated in the mat sport.

Next action for the Current force is the District tournament scheduled February 17,18, 24 and 25 in Columbus. Then comes the State tournament at Ohio State University on March 3 and 4.

106 pounds — Cook (C) pinned Long (GC); 115 pounds — Mogan (C) decisioned Carter (GC).
123 pounds—Owens (C) pinned Beaumont (GC); 130 pounds — Troutman (C) decisioned Jackson (GC).
136 pounds — Holmes (GC) won over Jolly (C) by default; 141 pounds — McDowell (C) pinned Grey (GC).
148 pounds — Wing (C) and Martin GC) battled to a draw (two points each); 157 pounds — Moore (C) pinned Haughn (GC).
168 pounds — Williams (C) decisioned Hanson (GC); 178 pounds — Cain (C) decisioned Tigh (GC).
Heavyweight — Rudd (C) pinned Pike (GC) in an exhibition match.

Leipsic Youth Killed in Crash

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A Leipsic youth was killed on U.S. 224 in Putnam County yesterday when his car was struck by a semi-trailer truck in a heavy fog. The victim was Paul Nemier, 18.

The truck driver, Edsel Reed, 34, of Decatur, Ind., told the highway patrol he swerved his vehicle in an attempt to avoid the car pulling out of a county road onto U.S. 224, but the rear wheels struck the car.

The impact flipped the truck over on its top, but Reed was unhurt. Nemier was thrown out of his car.

Legion Post Is Ruled Not Charity Institution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Board of Tax Appeals has ruled that an American Legion post is not primarily a charitable institution. The question arose when Euclid Post 343 said in an application for property tax exemption that part of its property has been set aside for a' youngsters' baseball diamond and a playground.

The board said that although the land is being used for nonprofit recreational purposes, "the fact remains that the post is not a charitable institution' and therefore does not qualify for the exemption under Ohio law.

OSU's Bucks Await Tuneup With Spartans

Iowa, Indiana Tilts Ahead To Be Tougher Tests for Champions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Bucks of Ohio State, sharpening up for their two toughest tests of the regular season, aim for their 23rd straight victory tonight on a Saturday college basketball program jammed with key conference and independent matches.

While their current chief Big Ten challengers — scholastically riddled Iowa, plays at Indiana, the Buckeyes of Fred Taylor play at East Lansing against a Michigan State team that has won only one of seven conference games and has an over-all 5-12 record.

Although any road game has a way of being hazardous, this one and Ohio State's home game with Northwestern Monday figure to be little more than sharpeners for and at Indiana Feb. 20.

Defending NCAA champion Ohio the Bucks' game at Iowa Feb. 18 State has won 7 straight Big Ten games this season and 17 games over-all to go with triumphs in the last 5 games last year in the march to the national title. Iowa, ninth-ranked nationally with its full team intact, built up a 4-1 Big Ten slate before announcement earlier this week that four of its five regulars were scholastically ineligible.

Away from the Big Bucks and the Big Ten, the action is heavy with four other members of the nation's top ten scheduled and tournament hopes riding on several other games.

Second-ranked St. Bonaventure, already signed for the NCAA tournament, takes an eight-game winning streak and a 17-1 record against Boston College at Buffalo —a Bonnie primer for Monday's clash at NIT-bound Providence. Fourth-ranked Bradley, reeling from three losses in its last four games, is at St. Louis in a key Missouri Valley Conference clash. A loss could just about eliminate the Braves from MVC and NCAA contention with consolation of putting them back in the NIT, which Bradley won last year.

Sixth-ranked North Carolina, beaten in its last two starts, is at Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference duel of challengers to leader Duke; and seventh-ranked Kansas State is home to Iowa State in the Big Eight Conference.

In other noteworthy pairings, Princeton's Ivy League leaders (6-0) play at Yale, Temple's Middle Atlantic Conference leaders (5-0) play at Delaware, West Virginia's Southern Conference leaders (9-1) at Richmond, Texas Tech's Southwest Conference pace setters against SMU, Utah's Skyline leaders at Montana, Arizona State U.'s Border leaders against Hardin - Simmons, Mississippi State's Southeastern leaders vs. Tennessee, and Maine's Yankee loop leaders at Connecticut, and in non-leaguers, with tournament overtones, Notre Dame-Detroit in the National TV game, Villanova vs. Memphis State, Washington State vs. Oregon, Idaho vs. Oregon State, and Marquette at Xavier of Ohio.

Princeton won its sixth straight Ivy game in a bid to defend the title, 66-61 over Brown; Colorado State U. moved within a half game of the Skyline lead, 90-61 over New Mexico, and West coast toughies Southern California and Oregon State added victories Friday night.

The Trojans, eighth-ranked nationally with a 16-3 record, pushed their Big Five record to 6-1 by whipping Stanford, 63-57, and Oregon State (13-6) nipped Washington State 53-52. Idaho snapped Oregon's seven-game win streak in a 61-57 upset, and Washington smashed California 70-50.

Al Kaemmerlen's 22 points and Pete Campbell's 16 led Princeton in the feature of an Ivy program that also saw Cornell (5-2) beat Dartmouth 81-73, Columbia nip Harvard 70-68 on Fred Portnoy's 35-foot jump shot at the buzzer, and Yale (4-2) down Penn 60-51.

Tom Mahaffey's 25 points triggered Clemson's ACC triumph over Maryland 76-59, and Georgetown (DC) hit 60 per cent of its shots in overwhelming Boston College 102-78.

Parttime Pro Leads Tourney

But Palmer Shows Power in Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A parttime tournament pro entered the third round of the $30,000 Phoenix Open today with a two-stroke lead and a most disturbing thought: the great Arnold Palmer was on the move.

Henry Williams Jr., who spends most of his time teaching club members at Fleetwood, Pa., how to play golf, was the front runner at the halfway mark of the 72-hole birdie battle after a course record seven-under-par 63 Friday.

Young Dave Marr, from Houston, Tex., and Phoenix, was right behind at 133. But it was an excellent guess that, next to the course itself, the big worry of Williams and everyone else among the 71 pros surviving the 36-hole cut was Palmer.

The muscular 1960 golfer of the year caught fire early in playing what he describes as "my best golf this year" in the second round. After hooking his second shot into a lake for a double bogie six on the first hole Friday, he shot nothing but pars and birdies to come in with a five-under-par 65. This tied him with Don January at 134, three strokes off the pace.

The power hitter who last year won an official $75,262, more than any other golfer ever earned in a single season, birdied the last four holes in a row.

Although he won at San Diego and finished among the top five in three of five tournaments this year, Palmer has said his many public appearances to receive awards and speak at banquets have hampered his game.

"But now I've had a couple of weeks rest from the tea circuit," he said after Friday's round, "and I feel great."

Big Bill Collins, who shared the first-round lead with Marr and Mason Rudolph at 66, came in with a 69 for 135 and a tie with defending champion Jack Fleck, Julius Boros, Johnny Pott and Jim Ferrier.

Rudolph had an even par 70 and still was within reach at 136.

This year's leading money winner with nearly $13,000 in just over one month, South Africa's Gary Player was in a group of 10 tied at 139.

Bob Rosburg, second in tournament earnings with $9,050, suffered his second successive 73 and failed to qualify for the final two rounds.

Ohio State Expert Concludes Countians Grow Good Silage

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

According to Dr. George Gist, extension agronomist, "Pickaway County farmers are good silage makers", after he had studied the silage samples entered in the 1961 Pickaway County Hay and Silage Show competition. The placing of the samples was very difficult due to the good quality of the silage made.

The final placing by Dr. Gist of the corn silage samples found Pearl Zimmer, of Route 2, Orient with the first place sample; Donald Kempton, of Williamsport, second; and Charles Pugsley, of Circleville, third.

In the grass silage competition Larry Wolford, of New Holland, produced the top sample, Mary and Herman Hines were second, and Roger Schneider third. The corn silage sample of Pearl Simmer was judged the champion silage sample of the show.

The competition in the hay samples was equally as good as the silage competition. In the alfalfa hay competition Wilbur Alkire, of Route 1, Stoutsville, produced the top sample; Larry Wolford, of New Holland, was second; and Walter Rase, of Circleville, was third.

The mixed hay competition was captured by a sample belonging to Mary and Herman Hines, of Circleville. Donald Kempton, of Williamsport, exhibited the second place mixed sample, and Carl Hunsinger, of Williamsport, was third. The alfalfa belonging to Alkire was judged the best over all hay sample.

DR. GIST commented that in selecting a silage corn "that farmers should look for a corn that will produce more grain and not particularly for corns that produce a lot of foilage. The amount in silage is a measure of the silage's real value".

Dr. Gist also commented that various crop mixtures have been suggested in the hope of increasing the yield and quality of silage. Research at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station has shown that the yield per acre from two or more crops planted together does not exceed the yield of the highest yielding crop grown alone. Usually one crop dominates the other and the second crop contributes only a small percentage of the total dry matter.

In Ohio tests in which corn and soybeans are planted together, corn accounted for from 80 to 95 per cent of the dry matter production. Soybeans in the mixture were increased when the corn was planted to a wider spacing — at the expense of corn production. Similar results were obtained in studies at Illinois which includes soybeans interplanted with both corn and sorghums.

Sorghum drilled with corn may result in a large vegetative growth per acre. However, the resulting silage will contain only limited amounts of grain and this will be lower in feeding value than straight corn silage. In actual practice corn frequently dominates in a corn - sorghum mixture and the yield contribution from sorghum is minor. Corn plants get off to a good start when soil temperatures are too low for optimum growth of sorghums.

A mixture of two relatively low yielding crops such as sundangrass and soybeans cannot be expected to produce as much feed per acre as can be produced by crops such as corn or sorghum.

Tax Lien Is Filed Against Lanza Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has filed an income tax lien for $22,820 against the estate of the tenor Mario Lanza and his wife Betty.

Tax agents said this amount was due for back income levies for 1955-56-57.

The singer died Oct. 7, 1959, and his wife died five months later.

Ohio Ag Chief Is Mentioned for U.S. Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There are strong indications that Ohio's director of agriculture, Robert H. Terhune, will join the new Democratic administration in Washington as an official of the "Food for Peace" program.

Terhune said this week that he expects to discuss the possibility of a federal appointment with officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture "within the next 30 days." He said he has had three informal conferences with federal officials.

The director said he has not applied for a federal post, would be reluctant to leave his Washington Court House farm to live in Washington, D. C., and also feels he should stand by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as a member of the governor's Cabinet.

But Terhune pointed out that he has been interested for a long time in a program of providing under - developed nations with some of the United States' surplus food.

If a post in the food surplus program is offered, he will confer with Gov. DiSalle before making any decision, the director said. During a visit to Washington earlier this week, Terhune said, he talked with U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, but did not discuss a possible appointment.

The completely natural look, with emphasis on lightness and airy relaxation, is the newest trent noted by fashion reporters for both spring and summer styles. The asymmetric or one - shoulder look has been taken wholeheartedly by American designers and shows up in sundresses, evening wear, and bathing suits.

The sleeveless look is for evening as well as for daytime wear. And one of the headline stories of the year is the over blouse, which appears everywhere from beach to ballroom. It forms an integral part of the three - piece ensemble which is important this year.

Suits and jackets, reflecting the easy, open, fluid lines, feature stand - up scooped necklines. Collars and high necks have virtually disappeared. Raglan or dolman sleeves, deep set to allow greater freedom of motion, appear in elbow and just above lengths. Cape and bell - backed coats have almost completely replaced tight fitted jackets.

Spring rainwear will feature bright colors, gay prints, and a wide range of fabrics.

The gay spring colors will be found not only in solids but also in abstract prints, checks, stripes and plaids.

DESIGN lines featured in other spring ready to wear fashions also will appear in raincoats. Look for such features as collarless necklines, cape shapes and a semi-fit.

Fabrics used for the rainwear includes cotton poplin, cotton twill, plastic coated poplin, fabrics laminated to foam, jersey, silk, nylon, slubbed rayon and dacron and nylon blends.

Look for special features in some rain wear. Stoles to be worn as a hood, scarf, or sash may be featured. Rain separates may be combined in several ways: (1) an ensemble of a rain skirt with matching sleeveless water repellent dress, or (2) a jacket and a matching skirt or coat and slim pants.

As you shop for new spring fabrics, look for light weight materials, more blends and easy to care for fabrics. New fabrics and new combinations will be available in both fabrics and ready to wear.

Textures add a new look to fabrics ranging from the soft to the rustic. Bouch and tapestry are two materials that add a pronounced texture to cotton coats and suits.

Wool textures are from the crisp to the gauzy sheers. Look for open weaves, bold weaves, airy knits, lacy jersey, and looped mohair.

Silk and linen fabrics appear in plains and textures. Choices in silk start with georgette and include taffeta, organdy, crepe, tussch, and slubbed ottoman.

New blends and new man made fibers also will appear in spring fabrics. As you shop for ready to wear or fabrics you may see such blends as fortel and cotton; dacron and cotton; cotton and arnel; rayon and cotton; wool and nylon; orlon and silk; cotton, rayon and silk; wool and silk: acetate and nylon; and worsted wool and silk.
